What is believed to be the first carload of cherries from the State were shipped by express from Vacaville, Solano county a few days ago. The fruit was consigned to the New York market. The first carload last year left Vacaville May 7th, making this year's first shipment ten days earlier. Peach thinning is under way throughout the Wheatland district, Yuba county, and in the Rio Oso district. Heavy thinning will be necessary this season, as the trees are heavily laden with fruit, there being no damage to the fruit in this section by late frosts. The growers who have not contracted their help are paying 35 cents an hour.

Twenty-four state forest rangers, patroling nearly all the forest and brush area in California outside of the national forests went on duty last week upon announcement made by State Forester M. D. Pratt. The state is divided this year into seven districts over which presides an inspector. A Southern California district, of which W. H. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce last week announced receipt of word that the interstate commerce commission had declined to cancel the present through freight rates between Pacific Coast points and Florida points south of Jacksonville. The cancellation was asked by Atlantic Coast railroads. Seth Mann, manager of the chamber of commerce traffic bureau, advised shippers of the decision. He declared granting of the cancellation petition would have increased rates on canned goods, dried fruits, fresh fruits and vegetables, and other commodities by 20 per cent.

Plans are nearing completion for the fifth annual California avocado show to be held at Whittier, May 14 to 19 inclusive. Avocado growers from Santa Barbara to San Diego are taking space, and the exhibit promises to be the biggest and the best ever shown on the coast. An added feature of interest during the show will be the annual meeting of the California Avocado Growers' Association, which is to be held at Whittier this year on May 18 and 19.

Imperial Isabel, nine-year-old Jersey cow in the herd of Harry Cook of Ontario is credited with the highest record for butter fat production during January of any cow in California, and is second highest in the United States, according to association testing records. Her January record was 102.81 pounds of butter fat, which, churned, would have equalled 128 pounds of butter. In one day she gave as high as sixty-two pounds of milk. Mr. Cook's records show. The only cow in the United States with a higher January record, Mr. Cook States, was one in Massachusetts, with a production of 106 pounds of butter fat.

Indicating the growth of the dairy industry in the state are figures showing that farmers last year delivered approximately 14,000,000 more pounds of butter fat than in 1926, the 1927 total being 143,331,030 pounds. The ten leading milk-producing counties in the state in the order named are Los Angeles, Merced, Stanislaus, Tulare, San Joaquin, Humboldt, Fresno, Imperial and Kings. Creameries turned out 77,325,467 pounds of butter. Cottage cheese is comparatively light, but the production for the state was 13,604,228 pounds. The ice cream appetite is reflected in 113,078,395 gallons of the stuff. The farm value of milk delivered to creameries and dairies was $84,807,000, compared with $72,383,000 in 1926.

The annual fruit rush, which will extend well into September, is on at Newcastle, Placer county, with the shipments last week of several varieties of standard cherries from the various fruit houses on the Newcastle row. The Newcastle Fruit Growers' Association, the Pioneer Fruit Company, the Pacific Fruit Exchange and the S. A. Gerrard Company announce that shipments over their platforms have commenced of Early Black Knights and Purple Guigne varieties.

This is according to figures announced by the State department of education. No estimates are given of enrollment in universities and parochial and private schools, over which the department has no direct supervision. Mr. Taxpayer owes the state and the cities and counties of California an average annual tax bill of $333,800,000, it was announced by Dixwell L. Pierce, secretary of the state board of equalization. And he cann't escape paying part of it, even if he dies, for the estate tax nowadays is averaging $7,000,000 a year. But that isn't all. In addition to the tax total announced by Pierce, there are millions of dollars' worth of other fees and charges which come out of taxpayers' pockets for special public services. The tax total collected yearly by local governments, cities and counties was given by Pierce as approximately $250,000,000.

Within ten days, thousands of antiprize fight petitions will be placed in circulation as the first step toward the concerted attack on legalized prize fighting in California. Attorneys have completed the last details of legal formalities and the petitions were ordered printed. As soon as they are ready, they will be distributed throughout the State. The first consignment of several thousand will go to ministers affiliated with the California State Church Federation.

In an airplane wrenched apart by sudden strain of a nosedive, a pilot and two passengers plunged 3,500 feet to instant death at Eureka last week. William Spaletta, flyer of several years' experience, was at the controls of the luckless plane. With him rode Williard Wenzel and Larry Batty, musicians in a Eureka cafe. Behind the dive which carried the three men to death lay Wenzel's fear of approaching deafness. Wenzel, his wife declared after the crash, feared that his impaired hearing might end his career as a musician. He had read of cures being effected by rapid changes in altitude—by diving airplanes. He resolved to try it.

Masonic leaders in Sacramento are beginning preparations for the "diamond jubilee of the Masonic order in California" to be celebrated June 2 near Coloma on the American River. A tent city will be established to house the visiting members of the order from all parts of the State, caterers have been arranged for in San Francisco and there is included in the plans a pageant in which pioneer Masons will be represented, among them John Sutter and Peter B. Lassen, while historic incidents will be re-enacted. Jesse M. Whited of San Francisco will have charge of the pageant. The date selected for the jubilee is the seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of Palmyra Lodge at Placerville.

Carrying letters from 157 disappointed California swains, Miss Emma Lintz, Chicago heiress left Los Angeles last week for her native city to wed her "ideal man." The girl inherited $100,000 recently from Anton Lintz, her father. She announced then that she would remain in Los Angeles until she found a suitable husband. "I received 158 proposals, and one of them is from a man I'm going to marry," she said today. "I won't tell yet who he is, except that he lives in Chicago. The man of my choice didn't propose at all. He wrote that I was a darn fool to look for an ideal man. Said there wasn't any such animal. Then he called me up and we met. This is Leap Year and I told him he was the one for me."

TROUT PARADISE NEAR HERE NOW OFFERED STATE

Dean Theodore J. Hoover of Stanford and brother of Herbert Hoover, has offered to the State of California the use of his private estate in the Santa Cruz mountains to experiment in fish culture.

Steelhead and rainbow trout are disappearing from California waters and the fish authorities are curious to know the reason.

In making the offer Dean Hoover states: "I offer Waddell creek, running from the shore some six miles up my property, for the purposes of a biological survey in the intensive study of the rainbow and steelhead trout. If this area is accepted and closed then the beach foreshore and the lagoon area should also be closed for the same purposes. This will then give a unit of about six and one-half miles of a stream yet under natural conditions from the sea to the head waters where the entrance of fish from the sea, their spawning and the life's history can be carefully studied under suitable control. The term of this closing should be at least five years, better ten, and I would concede fifteen or twenty if it were deemed advisable.

"The proper authorities are to enforce this closure the same as in all of State fish and game preserves.

"I will provide laboratory and living quarters for scientists and assistants, with lights, water and fuel. I will provide a site for racks for counting fish and any other purpose connected with a proper survey.

"It is agreed that the stream will not be used as an egg taking station. I will agree for myself and friends never to take a spawning fish in the rest of my holdings. I do not believe in catching these fish, first on sentimental grounds and seconds, on grounds of practical fish culture."

Dean Hoover further suggests that in addition this same area be declared closed completely for a fish and game preserve for all purposes—fish, migratory birds, upland birds and deer.

State control of aviation lines carrying passengers in California was recommended to the state railroad commission in a report submitted by J. G. Hunter of the commission's transportation department, and Charles G. Shone, assistant engineer. The report was taken under consideration by the commisison and the legal department was ordered to prepare an opinion on the powers of the commission to regulate flying. "It is my opinion that now is the time for the commission to take proper steps to help promote aerial transportation along correct lines, as proper rules and regulations and safety factors cannot be overestimated," said Shone.

Vastly different license plates, will grace California automobiles in 1929 if plans of Frank G. Snook, chief of the division of motor vehicles, and other members of his department, which now are being developed, can be carried out. The new plates, under Snook's plans, will differ from the 1928 licenses, as to size, color and substantialness, as well as to the size and number of numerals. Snook feels that, not only should the numbers on the plates be lessened, but the plates as well should be reduced as to length and widened so that larger numbers, which will trend toward much quicker and more accurate reading, can be stamped on them.

WOMAN'S CLUB OFFICERS ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Country Woman's Club was held Monday afternoon and served pieces of business were considered and acted upon.

A resolution that the club withdraw from the district and State Federation, and thereby reducing the annual dues was passed.

A second resolution to remove the initiative fee was also passed Althougt this action will reduce the initial income from new members, it wash done with the hope that the membership might be thereby increased sufficiently to offset the loss. The work of keeping up the library and the building must be continued and there is great need of a larger working membership, to help "carry on." The personal benefits are beyond calculation.

The treasurer's annual report showed the finances in a satisfactory condition with $200 paid on the building debt as the result of the recent show sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, assisted by other organizations and local talent. There remains now but $100 more to raise.

Directors for the coming year were elected, who later met and shose the following officers: Mrs. D. H. Cramer, president; Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, vice-president; Mrs. G. W. Page, secretary; Miss Jessie Lewis, treasurer, and Mrs. C. H. Whitman, director-at-large.

Mrs. J. C. Ainsley extended an invitation to the club to hold the annual June picnic in the beautiful gardens of her home on Johnson and Hamilton avenues.

CAMPBELL KIWANIS TREAT LADIES

Kiwanians enjoyed a ladies' night Tuesday and judging from remarks the ladies enjoyed it, too. In fact, it was "fine" from start to finish, with a finishing "touch" now and again for several of the boys.

Hal Morton started things with a rousing club song. "Doc" Merrill then told how glad he was to be back greeting the gang and enjoying the flower 'n everything.

Mrs. Harry Smith gave a reading on the germi-side of life that was much appreciated.

Ben Curry told some laughable stuff about Seattle, but Louise was the big attraction. These border towns will ruin Ben's reputation.

W. G. Smiley very kindly set up his radio and gave the group a number of musical numbers. Eugene McCann of the personel department of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company will speak on "Man Power in Industry," and Hal Morton will preside Tuesday.

Carl Field urged a trip North to learn what you can Se-atta convention. Tac Cutting won the doughnut with the biggest hole by giving this original poem:

I Wish

I wish I could go a buzzing
Like a big old bumble bee,
Shootin' around like lightning
Over clover and tree.

An' I wish I could sit a singin'
On the top of a post or reed
Like a meadow lark in the spring time
Swinging on a weed.

I wish I could be like Kiwanis
Everywhere all at once,
New York, Seattle, Chicago—
Doing a million stunts.

And I wish I could be Walt Merrill,
Pretty near goin' to die,
A making a thousand people
Wipin' their eyes and cry.

HIGH OPERETTA POPULAR HIT AIDED BY FINE SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Friday evening when the curtain rose on the opening act of the High School operetta, "In Old Louisiana," it disclosed the front portico and entrance to a vine-clad plantation home, with garden seats nearby and the back drop a scene of a river winding through nearby lowlands.

Old Ned, a colored servant, ambled up on the scene and was met by Rose, the adopted daughter of Pilot Farley, owner of Sans Souci Sugar Plantation and pilot of the Steamer "Eclipse."

Richard St. John, a young neighboring sugar planter was in love with Rose and Simon Scudder, the overseer of Sans Souci, was endeavoring to get her thru false statements of her parentage obtained thru Holley Simms, a lawyer from New Orleans, and Jack Martin from the same city.

Another love affair was that between Richard's sister, Martha St. John and Monty Gray, a friend of his from the North.

The timely arrival of Marquis De La Tour of France and Bruce MacDougal, the sheriff, brought about a happy termination. Another interesting character was Judy, Old Ned's wife. These various personages were well protrayed by the following students:

Oold Ned, a colored servant ..... Elmer Sundquist
Rose, Pilot Farley's adopted daughter ..... Annette Merrill
Richard St. John, a young sugar planter ..... Steph..en Merrill
Simon Scudder, Pilot Farley's overseer ..... Mervyn Nichols
Holly Timms, a shady lawyer from New Orleans ..... Glenn Willis
Jack Martin, a friend of Scudder from New Orleans .... Kenneth Beer
Martha St. John, Richard's sister ..... Opal Overshiner
Monty Gray, a friend of Richard from the North ..... Jack Murdock
Pilot Robert Farley, pilot on the good steamer "Eclipse," owner of the Sans Souci Sugar Plantation ..... Richard Lynden
Judy, Old Ned's wife and the best cook in Louisiana ..... Myra Lester
Marquis De La Tour, of Bordeaux, Brance ..... Bruce Cooper
Bruce MacDougal, the county sheriff ..... Art Downing

The score called for a number of solo and duet numbers, with a few group songs and choruses.

Special interest centered about the parts taken by Annette and Stephen Merrill, Opal Overshiner and Jack Murdock and Richard Lynden, all of whom had several opportunities to use their sweet voices to advantage.

The negro melody sung by Old Ned and the "spiritual," which he and Judy led were also pleasing numbers.

The chorus did not have as prominent a part in this production as in those of the preceding years, but their numbers were well drilled and the variety of old fashioned costumes was very attractive.

The school orchestra, augmented by several pieces which played several numbers in addition to the entire operetta score, was a real treat. This was the first time that such a feat had been undertaken and Director A. A. Thiekle deserves great commendation for the way in which the musicians responded to his directions.

The musical and dramatic training of the cast was the work of Miss Marian Jenkins, who accomplished a difficult task successfully.

SCOUT BOOSTERS MET AT CAMPBELL

Tuesday evening the monthly meeting of the Santa Clara, San Benito Council Scoutmasters was held at the Congregational Church, Campbell. A fine supper was prepared by the ladies of the church. After the supper the meeting was called to order by Mr. H. E. White, Scout executive. Mr. A. M. Mortenson, president of the council, gave a report on the San Francisco convention. The remainder of the time was spent discussing problems of scouting. Elmo Stevenson had charge of this part of the meeting.

Campbell was well represented by Rev. J. H. Bennett, scoutmaster Richard Saveker, scout master; Worthin Grattan, skipper; Gene Grattan, mate; Rev. W. C. Robbins, Harry Smith, Walter Stray and Guy Merriman, committeemen, and four Sea Scouts.

The epurpose of these meetings is to talk over any problems of scouting that come up in the different troops.

An interesting exhibit of sea scout work was arranged by Gene Grattan. The Sea Scout ship was also on exhibition at the rear of the church.

CAMPBELL ENTERS TWO FIESTA FLOATS

The Campbell Sea Scouts directed by Worthin and Gene Grattan will enter a float in the Fiesta de Las Rosas parade. When the directors were interviewed by Gene Grattan and H. C. Smith, it was discovered that no classification covered such a group and a new class to be formed at a subsequent directors' meeting. The boys will enter their newly constructed motor-sail boat and the Campfires will give their material and artistic assistance to make this entry one to be a credit to the groups and the community.

Campbell High School will enter the "big parade" Fiesta day with a "tower of education" float. This is being made by the mechanical classes under W. E. Whitney and will be decorated by the art class and other students supervised by Miss Johnson.

Friends of these groups are asked to save their roses and other flowers for the decoration of their floats that this district may have two beautiful floats to display. Kindly phone to the high school if you have flowers for this good cause.

CHILD BADLY BURNED

Little Ione Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gardner, was severely burned last week when her dress caught fire from a small alcohol store. When she discovered the blaze she ran to her mother fanning the blaze the more. The skin was burned from her back and arms and for several days she was in terrible pain. At last report she was slowly improving and able to eat some, though compelled to lie on her stomach constantly.

The members of the garden section of the San Jose Woman's Club brought their picnic lunches and enjoyed the beauties of Mrs. J. C. Ainsley's rose garden Monday. Mrs. Ainsley has extended an invitation to the County Woman's Club to hold its annual picnic in June in the same lovely grounds.

Chamber of Commerce, Monday.

"What Do We Plant?"

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
We plant the ship, which will cross the sea.
We plant the masts to carry the sails;
We plant the planks to withstand the gales—
The keel, the keelson, the beam, the knee;
We plant the ship when we plant the tree.

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
We plant the houses for you and me.
We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors,
We plant the studding, the lath, the doors,
The beams and sidings, all parts that be;
We plant the house when we plant the tree.

What do we do when we plant the tree?
A thousand things that we daily see;
We plant the spire that out-towers the crag,
We plant the staff for our country's flag,
We plant the shade from the hot sun free;
We plant all these when we plant the tree.

Preparations are being made in all counties where puncture vine exists for the 1928 control campaign, says W. C. Jacobsen, chief state bureau plant quarantine and pest control. Results obtained in previous campaigns, he states, have been very satisfactory to those in charge of the control program. Early activity in the control operations will facilitate the elimination of this pest. Several counties have already outlined their spraying plans and machines have been ordered to take care of the season's weed program. Demonstrations in various parts of the State, Jacobsen added, have proven the efficiency of all sprays over hand labor.

The Price of Safety

THE fire loss in the United States each year is in excess of half a billion dollars, and most of it is preventable. This astonishing waste is increased by the losses that occur from theft and other causes. Valuable possessions... stocks, bonds, photographs, heirlooms, jewelry, etc... are secure from fire and theft only when placed in a modern safe deposit vault. Safe deposit boxes in the vaults of the American Trust Company are fireproof and theft-proof. The small annual rental is trivial when compared to the protection they afford.

Dear Friend:

Anticipating the opening of the cannery for this year, we have been checking over our records of former employees, in an effort to get our help lined up for the coming season's work.

We expect to have about a 30% larger pack than heretofore, and will no doubt have a much heavier and longer working season than in past years.

Enclosed is a blank postcard, on which we would appreciate your stating whether or not you will be able to work with us this year, returning the card to us promptly.

If it is convient, we would be glad to have you call at the office and register.

Geo. Marsh Writes of Vacatian Trip

We spent nearly two weeks altogether, at the cottage of our cousins, in the noble fir wood on the side of the mountains six miles away, and at an elevation of some 3500 feet above the sea. It was a glorious forest, with running water, flowers and quantities of ferns. With its restful verdure, and its far views from the open spaces, it was a place in which to find one's soul.

One brilliantly bright morning after a heavy rain, when all the green world was glistening in the sunshine, we went up to these fir woods, known as Cham Korea, by a different road. We drove up beside the river to where it bursts through the narrow mountain gorge a tempestuous torrent, followed up its winding course, with the great cliff of a mountain towering ahead of us, ascended through the tortuous streets of a little village, and zigzagged up the mountain side till we came out onto the great shoulder of a ridge. Behind us rose the blue peaks of the Rhodopes, their summits capped with clouds and patched with snow. Before us, and far below, stretched the Samokov plateau, Vitosh beyond, and far to the north, over the intervening hills rose the noble range of the Balkans, which have given their name to the peninsula. As we stood in the glory of the morning, the splendor of the fresh world spread before us, it all seemed to speak of the wonderful possibilities of Bulgaria.

The progress which the country has made is typified by the difference between two scenes which impressed themselves indelibly upon us. A year ago we visited the famous old monastery of Rilo, in the heart of the Rhodope mountains, a great pile going back in its atmosphere and its oldest building to the middle ages. Here the church was covered on its walls within and without with horrible pictures of devils, reflecting the theology of a century ago. Contrast with this the noble Cathedral of Sofia, built in the Russian style of architecture with three domes, beautiful and worshipful in its decorations, and adorned with the fine paintings referred to above.

It is fair to say that this great change in the religious thinking of the country which is now going on, is due in some measure to the presence of American missionaries during the past 60 years. They are giving themselves increasingly to the work of education, where they are particularly and heartily welcomed by the leaders of the nation.

I think also of the steady progress which the country is making in its farming, roads, homes, business and education, and of all there is yet to come .

Then there are the splendid personalities, such as the church leaders to whom I have referred. And there came to my mind two other men, among many outstanding persons whom I met—one a physician at the head of the Red Cross Hospital in Sofia, and the other the leading oculist of the city. Both of these were men of such professional skill, high character, and strong and attractive personalities that I should consider it worth while to have gone to Bulgaria if only to have become acquainted with them. And they are typical of a considerable group of leaders in business, the professions, politics, education and religion. Do you wonder that we came away from Bulgaria with a deepened conviction of the great possibilities of the country?

But we also came back to our work with a larger appreciation of the immense possibilities of all of the Balkan countries, four of which we visited, possibilities not to be exploited by nations strong and selfish, but to be developed by friendly co-operation, both for the sake of the people themselves, and because of the large contributions which they can make to the spiritual wealth of mankind.

Heartily yours,
George L. Marsh

In Menory of Mother

By REV. LELAND H. TRACY

The second Sunday in May has been set aside as a day in which we honor the memory of mothers now with us, or who have journeyed on. On this high day all over our land sons and daughters will recall their mothers, reverencing them, seeking to emulate their example.

To commemorate such a day as "Mother's Day," is to retire the trivial, the flippant, the indulgent, that we may promote and advance the consequential, the sacrificial, the heroic. We are compelled to estimate at their real value the substantial virtues, and install them over against the soft and easy preferences of unrestrained days.

Looking back upon our history, we note that the spirit and the principles of mother first conquered in the dreary wilderness of New England; that the mother ideals and principles repeated themselves wherever the wilderness retreated and men and women sought to enlarge their boundaries. In civil conflict, it was the mother spirit that went forth to purify the soil. To thinking men, it must now be evident that the time is surely coming when we must proclaim to the world our ideals of woman, our reverance for mother. As we succeed in bringing before the coming generation the ideals and hopes and aspirations of our common life as expressed in the home and in the queen of the home, so shall we never cease to celebrate this day with expressions of love and adoration of heart.

Contrariwise, should the spirit of this day fail,should the consciousness of a divine energy, underlying human love and home, as depicted in mother, manifested in the trust, the security, the perfect symbolism of the home fail, and humanly ordered relations disappear in the crucifixion of the home and mother reverence, we may believe the ocean rising and falling upon the sands of time will be the endless lament over the baffled hopes of men.

True Americanism is a spirit, pure, lofty, determined, which persists when the old order changes, giving place to new, which is vital when new conditions and new occasions teach new duties, and which never shines with a more refulgent luster than when its integrity is challenged or its security is threatened.

The love of mother, the sacredness of motherhood, the consecration of love, the dominion of the home—such is the soul developing from generation to generation, the defense of whose continuing life is the highest perogative of the very noblest ideals of our citizenship.

The essential quality of the American soul is freedom, but bound in the ties of reverence and love for the loftiest of human emotions, the love of mother. The growth of our country, which astounds the world and presents a phenomenon unparalleled in the history of the earth, is to be traced to our deference to, and defense of freedom,which is the vital soul of our republic. But back of this and regnant in the hearts of our citizens is the respect, the honor, the love which they render to mother. The nation endures so long as this ideal of motherhood and motherlove is reverenced. When this ideal is marred, when the sacred ideals of life are offered on the altar of selfishness and pleasure and dissipation, the nation begins to decline, and the end of its national integrity is in sight. The home is the foundation on which this nation has reared its superstructure. Take away from the growing youth of the land this reverence for the home as exemplified in the mother within the home, and you begin to undermine the very foundations of our national life.

Today our generation is rich indeed, through a thousand treasures that have come down out of the past. But our greatest treasure is not in tools, not in poems that have come to us; the greatest boon our generation possesses is the religion that our mothers gave us. Those who have won for us our institutions, who have given us the noblest ideals of life, ave the right to expect that we shall transmit them unimpaired and greatly enriched to the next generation.

"The times which have ceased to believe in God and immortality," said Mazzini, "May continue, illogically, to utter the hold words, 'Progress and duty,' but they have deprived the first of its basis and robbed the second of its sanction." And when the faith of the mothers goes, our faith in God shall go; when we become materialistic and bow down to a mud god, and live by the ethies of pleasure, not duty, then justice will forsake the laws of our founders; liberty will fade from our institutions; the glory will depart from library and chapel; our music will lose its sweetness, and our canvas its lustruous beauty; peace also will pass forever from the American home. For the loss of faith in the God of our mothers would be the most disasterous that ever befell this republic; just as the victory of our mother's faith is to be the most sublime in the annals of time.

The memory of our mothers today should consecrate us, their approval should be our benediction. We fulfill a noble instinct when we remember the mothers and the service they have rendered unto us. We, too, are children of a noble heritage, and therefore we reverence them.We, too, are Americans, and therefore the children of those who carried with them into the conflict of life a true and constant, unwavering faith. Unto this generation there sounds forth this word:

Lest we forget—lest we foget."

The "straight line" of communication

An axiom in mathematics says—

"A straight line is the shortest distance between two points".

In the communication field where time measures distance, telephone service is the "straight line". For telephone service is the fastest means of conveying thought to others nearby and in distant places.

The extension of improved operating methods has decreased the time involved in completing calls to other cities and towns and greatly increased the areas in which calls by telephone number—"Number Service" calls—may be placed in the same manner as local calls.

Points to which number service is available are designated in the front pages of the directory at every telephone.

Greater speed, efficiency and economy—by telephone

The new Wedgewood Gas Range has the closed-top, oven heat regulator and is finished in beautiful colors

WITH the new de luxe Wedgewood Gas Range four vessels cook over one burner. Each burner heats an area four times its own size. Two burners do the work of four once the closed top is thoroughly heated.

A more convenient gas range because —

A whole meal simmers on the closed-top hours without attention. Pots do not tip, burners do not clog. Easier to clean. It doesn't take a mechanical mind to see what a wonderful improvement the new cast-iron combustion plate is, with its new patented vents which carry off all fumes. Perfect combustion under the closed-top is assured and every possible heat unit is obtained from the burning gas. It's a more beautiful gas range because of the flush front, concealed hinges and bolts and its wonderful lustrous white porcelain enamel finish. Just a touch of gray trimming on door frames. No nickel to tarnish. Washes as easily as a china dish. A more durable gas range because the front and door frames are made of heavy cast-iron. Finished in beautiful colors, too.

Continued strength with higher prices for California naval oranges was reported from Eastern auction centers last week. Valencia oranges, coming into the market in the last week or so, were reported easier from Middle Western cities. Lemons were about unchanged.

Between 320 and 350 Ventura county farm properties were damaged by the St. Francis Dam disaster as compared to an estimate of 190 made immediately following the flood by County Horticultural Commissioner A. H. Call. This was the statement a few days ago of Warren Schoonover, chief of the farm-extension specialists sent by the University of California to estimate the damage.

Limited production of beef cattle and corresponding high prices have ushered in a period of plenty for western cattlemen after seven long "lean years." Earl D. Schlaman, secretary of the Western Cattle Marketing Association, is authoirty for the statement that the price outlook might be summarized as follows: No immediate reduction in beef prices. Stationary lamb and mutton prices. Increased prices for pork, although not at once.

Schools in San Bernardino county won highest honors in the Southern California high school stock-judging contest held recently at the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards. The Chaffey Union High School of Ontario, won first place in the competition, and the San Bernardino school took second. Theso winnings entitle the two schools to enter their teams in the final contest, which will be held in Los Angeles on May 19.

But I'm glad I ain't like Rawhide Ralph
Workin' the wicked deal
Of tryin' to get to Heaven above
On a tower of rods and steel.

I'd rather be, like Horace Lea,
In a store of motar and brick,
Than up in the sky so awful high,
Where you might come down too quick.

An' I'm glad I'm not in real estate,
Like Doc, and Guy, and Ben,
Selling the earth for twice its worth,
An'talkin' like honest men.

An' I wish I was a banker man
Livin in sweet contest.
Makin' the liberalist kind of loans
At a half of one per cent.

But I wouldn't be like Roy—No, Sir,
Like him I wouldn't be;
Chargin' the poor at seven per cent—
An' wishin' 'twas sixty-three.

But if I don't stop wishin' things,
You'll git to wishin', too,
And the thing you'll like be wishin' most—
Is wishin' that I was thru.

An' I s'pose it might be worse'n that
After some of the things I've said,
But is sure would be a terrible thing
To wishin' that I was dead.

I wish that all Kiwanis days
Could be ladies' night
For when just men come ten by ten
Things never go just right.

First Heck begins to laugh and jest,
And Mark don't like the joke,
Then Nicolae suggests a fine—
And both are sore they spoke.

Then Mark fines Ed, and Ed fines Lou,
And Lou fines all on deck,
Until each member of the club—
Is just as sore as Heck.

O, Ladies, you can never know
How like a lions' den
Is this Kiwanis Campbell Club
Composed of savage men.

But when you ladies grace the board
The fellows all the while
Politely use their knives and forks—
Serenely sit and smile.

And so we welcome you to-nite,
And love you every one,
I've had my say at close of day,
And now my speech is done.

Should parole of murderers be abilished? How can a sentence of life imprisonment be made to mean exactly that—instead of thirteen years, the average term now served by murderers in California? Pertinent questions on criminal procedure that are arousing lawyers, jurists, and lay citizens of California will shortly be considered by committees of eminent attorneys all over the State. Lawyers interested in the revising of criminal law and procedure will meet for organization on May 16, in San Francisco.

A death battle between a San Diego fisherman and a giant swordfish. The fisherman won! Tony Rosa, a fisherman, while trying to gaff the hooked swordfish, swung his leg over the side of the boat. Without warning the swordfish drove its long sharp snout clear through Rosa's leg, pinning it to the side of the boat. Companions stunned the swordfish with blows, swung it aboard and killed it. Treated immediately, Rosa is rapidly recovering. The fight occurred off Socorro Island, 1000 miles south of San Diego.
